Summary of the grant:	Kosovo 2.0 offers a new type of journalistic platform for Kosovo, the region and beyond — a platform that rejects the tabloidization of important issues. We are committed to explanatory, contextual and narrative journalism, where storytelling is not just about documenting the world around us, but also contributing to its reimagining. Through this two-year project, we advance our mission to create powerful, uncompromising multimedia journalism that listens to people's experiences, promotes a human rights culture and provokes conversations in Kosovo and beyond. We also organize public discussions and other capacity-building programs aimed at the citizenry.
