Summary of the grant:	This grant aims to democratize the university campus in the University of Prishtina, by revitalizing student organizations which lead to student engagement in a more active participation in the public sphere and in the university sphere. It also aims to empower the organization's research and reports through participatory democracy. This will be realized through: a Student Activism Centre, which will serve as a hub of student activism and it will help create new student initiatives; through a student online media platform "Tempulli i Dijes" (Temple of Knowledge) where students will write about and discuss issues in higher education and student activism; through participatory democracy – institutional advocacy through strategic litigation or whistleblowing, symbolic actions against negative phenomenon in higher education.
