Summary of the intervention	The "Tourist Potential of Korishe" project is an initiative that aims to identify cultural and natural heritage assets in the village of Korishe together with the mountainous area of Kabashi with the aim of putting them to use for the development of tourism. This village has a potential great for tourism, but still with an unstructured plan for its proper development, offers many assets of cultural and natural heritage in the south of Kosovo. Aiming first of all to sensitize local residents and then local and central institutions, we slowly aim to bring this part of Kosovo to the national and regional tourist map. "Tourist potential of Korisha" aims to mobilize the community and raise activism, starting from the residents, to ensure a sustainable and continuous development of this area.
Implementation Area and Target Group	Korisha village, Prizren municipality Community groups will be involved in all phases of project implementation. First by identifying the needs and discussing the vision for the development of tourism in the village of Korishe. This through focus groups with local residents, targeting mostly young people. 5 Focus groups for 6 months will be held with the participation of 10 residents (50 in total).
